

Fluoride Varnish from the Dental Health Foundation

The application of fluoride varnish is a simple, inexpensive procedure that can prevent tooth decay in young children.

Early, low cost prevention with fluoride varnish can help avoid the high cost and pain associated with treatment of decay.

It's a procedure that many health professionals treating young children, not just dental professionals, can and should perform.

The Dental Health Foundation strongly encourages the use of this extremely effective preventative treatment.

We'd like to help you to incorporate fluoride varnish into your practice and/or program. We have an agreement with Medical Products Laboratories, a leading manufacturer of preventative dental health products, to distribute their VarnishAmerica™ fluoride varnish products in California.

Call us for VarnishAmerica™, ideally packaged and priced for use in public health programs.
